A Message From The Minister

Dear Friends,

I write this just a couple of days after the tragic fire at the Grenfell tower block. I know that many of you have been deeply touched by the terrible images we have seen on our screens and in the papers. Of course our prayers are for those who have been affected by such devastation; those who have lost loved ones, those who wait, those beginning to recover from their injuries, the emergency services who came to provide immediate help, others who are responding to provide ongoing relief, those who now feel fearful and vulnerable in their accommodation. For many of us, even though we might be far away, our instinctive response has been to ask what we can do to help? To want to give, to respond in some way. The response by many, of all faiths and none, to this, and to the terror attacks in Manchester and London, has been heartening. Communities have come together to support those in distress, those left vulnerable. There have been countless stories of heroism, sacrifice, dedication, compassion and solidarity. There has been a determination to show love, to demonstrate that love will triumph over evil, tragedy, and despair. It is right to celebrate and give thanks for this love and such spirit. It is also true that in such acts we have a partial answer to the question of 'Where is God?'. For God is indeed seen in such acts of kindness as when the stranger is welcomed, the hungry fed, the widow and the orphan cared for.

However, I am troubled by the news that the first victim of the fire to be named is Mohammad Alhajali, a Syrian refugee, perhaps more vulnerable than most. Anger is, rightly, being expressed that such a tragedy should happen in one of the poorest boroughs, next to one of the richest boroughs in one of the richest nations on earth. As much as we celebrate and take heart from the kindness we have seen, I find myself being drawn back to the verse printed on our membership tickets for this year: "Do justice, love kindness, walk humbly with God" Micah 6:8

Kindness is only one aspect of what God requires of us. In many ways, kindness is reactionary, we respond with kindness to an immediate need. Without wishing to take anything away from the response that has been shown, we must not forget that God also requires us to do justice. This is about more than immediate response. It often requires commitment for a long time. It seeks change to end inequality, to prevent suffering. It requires us to face difficult truths and ask uncomfortable questions, including of ourselves. If indeed deregulation of social housing has contributed to this tragedy, it is not just politicians who must take responsibility. How have we cared for the vulnerable in our midst? To what have we turned a blind eye?

God is seen not just in those who love kindness, but those who do justice. Perhaps we ought to find the question of where is God in the wake of such tragedy troubling, and allow it to inspire us not just to acts of kindness, but to pursue justice.

With every blessing
Bruce

Volunteering at the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital

Within the NHS “Spiritual Care” has always been an important component in the overall care offered in hospitals through their Chaplaincy departments.

Here at the Department of Pastoral, Religious and Spiritual Care (known as Chaplaincy) in the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital we have a great group of voluntary team members who help us in various ways.

“It is such a privilege and honour to spend time with people – I am always surprised by how open and honest people are and how much they appreciate a listening ear”

These are words of one of our current volunteer ward visitors, who see patients by calling bed-to-bed on their assigned ward once per week offering a friendly listening ear. They also help us to discern where there are those who might need further support whether pastoral, religious or spiritual so that we can make sure that this element of care is provided on the patient journey.

We offer training for this vital work and the next course will start on Monday 18th September and run weekly for 8 weeks (2.30-4.30pm) here in the hospital. During the course we explore the place of spirituality in healthcare and practise basic listening skills as well as thinking about the effect of ill-health, loss and bereavement in our own lives and faith journey.

If you think you might be interested in finding out more about the course or joining our team then do call Juliet Horwood 01392 402024 or e-mail

Prayer Focus for July

For He himself has said,
“I will never leave you nor forsake you.”
So we may boldly say,
“The Lord is my helper; I will not fear.
What can man do to me?”

Numbers 13:5-6 (New King James Version)

Week beginning Sunday 2nd

On this Young Church Anniversary Sunday, please pray that God will continue to bless all the children and helpers and prosper all that is done in the name of our Lord Jesus who called the children to Him and said, “Let the children come to Me and do not stop them, because the Kingdom of God belongs to such as these.” (Luke 18:16 GNB).

Pray also for Ben Keatt as he prepares to go to Malawi with a group from St Peter’s School.

Week beginning Sunday 9th

In these times of danger and unrest in the world it is reassuring to recall our opening verse, “What can man do to me? With the Lord, I will not fear.” Please pray that the Lord will give peace and confidence to know that in times of trouble it is He who has the ultimate victory. Pray for all who grieve for lost loved ones and friends as a result of terrorism, warfare, disease and neglect.

Pray also for the Circuit Meeting on Monday, that God will give wisdom to those who have responsibility for decision making.

Thank God for the joy of uniting in praise and worship in the open air at Mandy’s evening orchard service.

Week beginning Sunday 16th

As we celebrate our Church Anniversary today, please pray that God will continue to bless and prosper all those brought to faith through the power of His word, preached and proclaimed faithfully in our Church by annointed Ministers and Lay Preachers over the completed years.

Pray also for the ‘prodigals’ who have gone their own way, done their own thing, maybe forgetting that God never leaves or forsakes them and is waiting with open arms to welcome them back to Him.

Week beginning Sunday 23rd

Please pray for young people in our church and community as they begin their school holidays that God will protect them in their travels and keep them safe from evil influences.

Pray also for those leaving college and universities that they will be able to find meaningful work best suited to their talents and skills which the Lord has given to each.

Thank the Lord for godly teachers and tutors who have influenced and educated the children during their school days and are still carrying on the good work.

Week beginning Sunday 30th

Please continue to pray for Circuit Ministers and their families who are moving this year. Also for the Churches and Circuit Stewards who will be holding conversations with them and their possible replacements. Ask God for clear thinking and His direction at this important time for all involved.

As we try our best to live in peace and unity in this troubled world, pray that God will draw us into a deeper relationship with Him, pour into our hearts the love that casts out fear and bless with healing all who call upon the name of Jesus.
